TASTE OF COUNTRY NIGHTS

Evan Paul

SHOW HOST

Evan has been a professional radio host for more than 20 years. His career started when he was 17 at Western Carolina University, on the college radio station. Since then his broadcasting skills have taken him to Charlotte, Memphis, New York City, Detroit, San Diego, Philadelphia and Portland, Oregon.

As morning host on "The Bull" KUPL in Portland OR, Evan's love of country music and the artists was realized. Hosting Taste of Country Nights is a dream come true. In July of 2013, Evan decided he wanted to live a healthier lifestyle, and lose weight. Through his determination and motivation from his wife and family, Evan lost over 200 pounds. Evan has kept all the weight that he lost off, since 2014.

Evan, Kristen and their beautiful daughter, Libby Mae, reside in Nashville with their cat named Ninja and their cockatiel named Marlee.

TASTE OF COUNTRY NIGHTS

Amber Atnip

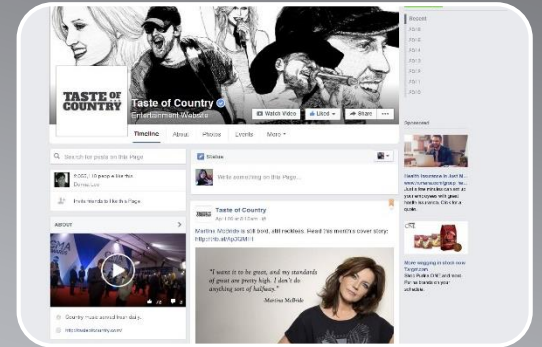

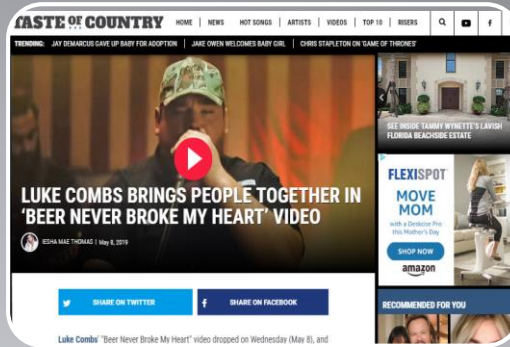

CO-HOST/PRODUCER

No matter where you are, when Amber Atnip walks into a room, you can't help but fall in love with her bubbly personality, smile and radiant energy! Born and raised in Tennessee, Amber has grown up in the heart of country music inspired by Shania Twain, The Dixie Chicks, Faith Hill, Tim McGraw and Garth Brooks. Amber worked in promotions for many of Nashville's most popular radio stations including WSIX, The Big 98.

After graduating from Middle Tennessee State University, she has found her home as the behind the scenes producer and on air contributor of the nationally syndicated Taste of Country Nights radio show where she brings her positive attitude, contagious laugh, and southern charm to life each and every night.

When she's not seeking out the latest country music news, you can usually find her raising the roof and starting a slow clap at a local karaoke bar with some of her best friends.
