About

ABOUT LENNY GREEN

Born and raised in Brooklyn, Lenny Green always believed his voice would take him far. And it has—just not in the way he first imagined. What began as a childhood dream of becoming the next Michael Jackson as a singer, evolved into a groundbreaking career behind the mic, where Lenny’s smooth, soulful presence has made him one of the most beloved voices in radio.

As the host of the nationally syndicated radio show. “The Quiet Storm with Lenny Green”, Lenny creates more than just a show—he crafts an experience. His signature blend of classic and new R&B music, heartfelt conversations addressing love and romantic, and sincere connection sets the perfect tone for thousands of listeners every evening. Lenny is more than an On-Air Personality — he’s The Soul Whisperer.

Over the years, he’s interviewed icons from Patti LaBelle, Chaka Khan to Mary J. Blige, Spike Lee and Jay-Z to name a few, Lenny has earned accolades like Billboard’s Air Personality of the Year, countless honors, proclamations, achievement awards and he brings comfort, connection, and calm to countless homes. But Lenny’s impact goes beyond the booth. He’s a dedicated community leader, event host, voice-over artist, and entrepreneur, with a passion for mentoring future stars and giving back through initiatives like Lenny Green’s Family Day and curated the Mama Green Woman of Dignity Award, honoring his late mother’s legacy.

Whether setting the mood on the airwaves or elevating lives off the mic, Lenny Green uses his gift to uplift, inspire, and connect. His voice hasn’t just made him famous—it’s made him a force for good.
